TEACHER OF HISTORY AND POLITICS
MPS/UPS (inner London) dependent on experience
Salary range: £28,098 - £46,827

Forest Hill is an oversubscribed 11-19 school which exists to serve the local community through innovative teaching and a broad and comprehensive curriculum offer in state-of-the-art facilities.

We have a strong record of academic success which combined with our Performance Arts specialism underpins the development of our boys all the way to our co-educational post 16 provision. Ofsted recently judged the school "outstanding" in many areas including leadership and behaviour.

History is a large, thriving subject area which is the largest option choice at KS4 and very popular at A-Level. Politics is taught at A-Level and is also a very popular choice in our joint Sixth Form with Sydenham School. We believe that excellent History and Politics provision is vital for students to develop the knowledge, skills and understanding of the world to act as 21st Century citizens.

Our ideal candidate is -

- A History specialist, with the enthusiasm or skills necessary to teach Politics
- An outstanding teacher who combines a range of innovative teaching strategies with excellent relationships with young people
- A team player who works well with others and is dedicated to the success of their students
- Someone who looks for ways to improve themselves and the school and is not afraid of taking responsibility beyond their classroom

We will offer -

- The opportunity to work in an established and experienced school which challenges the stereotypes of underachieving boys in inner city London
- A personalised CPD programme that offers a range of opportunities to broaden your pedagogical experience and which seeks to support you in developing yourself for future leadership roles
- Modern, state of the art facilities, including staff laptops and the use of excellent ICT facilities with the students

The post will suit an experienced teacher, or an innovative NQT with the desire to learn from an excellent team.
